EDMONTON REPORT

By Donald F. Smith
Special Correspondent

EDMONTON, Alberta's driver testing program appears to be going into high gear with the provincial secretary's department preparing to move into the province's rural areas.

Last week E. R. Hughes, deputy provincial secretary, said the first rural area to come within the year old program will be the Peace River block. New drivers and those seeking restitution of suspended licenses will be tested beginning this fall in the northwestern area.

For the first while, it was indicated, the testing in the Peace River district will be in the nature of a trial. Once any adjustments have been made to fit the program to rural conditions, it is expected the program will be expanded to other rural areas.

Following the Peace, it is expected that rural areas out of Calgary will then be included and then those out of Edmonton, probably to the east.

Travelling examiners and equipment will be used in the rural areas. Notices of times and locations of tests will be posted in advance of the examiners' arrival. They probably will spend from a half-day to a day in a town and accept applications for tests from persons living within a radius of 50 miles of the town.

It was indicated that the tests will be conducted in three to five centres in the Peace River district. Space and other details are being arranged and examiners hired and trained.

The province's driver testing program began in July 1952, in Edmonton and Calgary, following many months of research and investigation of tests in other provinces and states and cities. It is described as a three-fold test—based on physical, written or oral and road examinations.

Recently it was announced that 8,619 persons have passed the tests, while 2,727 had been rejected, most temporarily and pending correction of faults.

Alberta's seven cities—Edmonton, Wetaskiwin, Drumheller, Calgary, Lethbridge, Red Deer and Medicine Hat—are the current testing centres.

Even after the tests have been extended to all parts of the province, the program will not have reached its ultimate scope. At present it is limited to testing persons applying for their first drivers' licenses and those whose licenses have been suspended because of conviction on a driving offence.

Government officials say that eventually the program will be expanded so that all Alberta drivers are tested as to ability, knowledge of driving rules and physical capabilities. Then, it probably will be a matter of testing the newcomers, those whose licenses have been suspended and periodic examinations of current drivers.

Examiners have found that the major stumbling block for persons taking the tests is a lack of knowledge of the basic rules of the road. The provincial government has a small printed manual containing all the rules and driving tips and prospective applicants would be wise to request the Motor Vehicles Branch for a copy before taking their drivers' tests.

Other things which lead to rejection include faulty vision, physical defects and poor driving ability. In most cases the applicant has an opportunity to correct the fault. Up to the end of July, only six persons had been permanently rejected.

In some cases the drivers are given conditional licenses, which restrict them to certain speed limits, to daylight driving or to driving only within a certain area. A person who is considered too old for driving in the city or on busy highways, might receive a license allowing him to drive only on country roads.

One official explained that the aim of the program is not to keep anyone off the road but to keep as many as possible driving and acquainted with the individual with his driving deficiencies in hopes of making streets and highways safer.

Vulcan Loses Three Straight

Foothills Ball Title Won By Granum

Granum White Sox captured the Foothills-Wheatbelt Baseball League championship in Vulcan last Wednesday by nudging the Elks 7-6 to take the best-of-five final in three straight games.

Trailing 4-2 at one stage of the game, called after eight innings because of darkness, the White Sox rallied for three runs in the fourth frame on a three-run homer by Earl Ingardfield and then scored the winning marker in the fifth on a double and a Vulcan error.

Joe Jankola started on the hill for Granum in quest of his second victory in the series. In the second inning, however, Vulcan rallied for three runs and he was replaced by Frank Stone. Stone went the rest of the way, holding the Elks to two runs and four hits to post his second win of the series. Jankola fanned four and Stone two.

Workhorse Jack Altman, the California lefty, pitched and lost his third game of the series. He gave up 10 hits and struck out eight men.

Sev Pasoli cracked out a homer and single for Vulcan with Altman chipping in with a pair of one-base blows and Don Jantzie a double.

Elks battled back in the bottom of the sixth to pull to within one run of tying the score. Roy Lattimore walked the score. Roy Lattimore and Pasoli slammed a homer over the left field fence but Stone bore down in the final two frames to shut them out and preserve the one-run verdict.

Granum now meets the JCCA Niessels, the defending Southern Alberta senior champions, in the southern final.

Polio Vaccine Field Trial Completed

The Poliomyelitis Vaccine Field Trial has been completed in the Foothills Health Unit district, and the records have been filled in and dispatched to the Department of Health, Edmonton. The final analysis of these records show that 736 children received the first injection, 729 the second, whilst 712 received the third and final dose. Various reasons accounted for the decrease in participants for the second and third injections.

Infectious diseases prevented several children from completing the course. Rubella, whooping cough and chicken pox accounted for one each, and mumps for two. Two children had their appendixes removed and one child had a temperature of 102 degrees. Two children moved and one was on vacation, whilst one parent refused to let her child continue with the course of injections.

Accidental death from a gunshot wound killed one child taking part in the trial. Unspecified absences and illnesses prevented the rest of the children receiving all the three injections.

Eighteen samples of blood were taken before the trial commenced and 15 samples two weeks after the end of the trial. This blood was sent to the Provincial Laboratory of Public Health, Calgary, where the serum was separated from the corpses by centrifuging. The serum was then frozen and sent, packed in dry ice, to New York for the testing for antibodies.

Unfavourable reactions from the inoculations have been non-existent in this area. Two children had nausea and vomiting but this could occur from any injection, and could not be specially attributed to the poliomyelitis vaccine.

The co-operation of the parents and children has been excellent throughout the trial and to them we would like to offer our sincere thanks, our admiration and special thanks goes to those children who courageously gave samples of their blood before and after the trial.

THE WEATHER

He received one sentence of six months, three sentences of three months and two of two months, a total of 19 months, to run concurrently.

Calgary Church Scene of Wedding

Tall standards of gladioli and fern banked the altar of Jehovah Lutheran Church for the pretty afternoon wedding of Melita Martha, youngest daughter of Mrs. Rugs, Geschwendt, and the late Mr. Geschwendt, and Edward Therrien, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Therrien, all of Calgary. Rev. Phil Unerschultz officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Fred Geschwendt. She was lovely in a floor-length gown of white nylon lace and double layers of net over taffeta, fashioned the full bouffant skirt which was trimmed with lace-edged tiers of net. The lace bodice featured an inset of net trimmed with rhinestones, high neck-line and lily point sleeves. Rhinestones formed sparkling trim on her Juliet cap from which silk illusion veiling misted to finger-tip length. She carried a cascade arrangement of deep red roses.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were her five bridal attendants. Mrs. Johnny Roebuck, sister of the bride was matron of honor, attired in a green, floor-length gown of net over taffeta. The bride's lace and extended into a full peplum. Matching mitts and a headress trimmed with rhinestones completed her ensemble and she carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Miss Beverly Schelb, cousin of the bride from Kalamazoo, Michigan and Miss Elsie Anderson were bridesmaids. They wore full-skirted bolero gowns of pink net over taffeta with headresses and mitts to tone and also carried pink and white carnations.

Little Sharon Geschwendt, niece of the bride, and Betty Nielsen were dainty flower girls. The former was frocked in pink net over taffeta with trim of pink bows on the full skirt, while a frock of green taffeta with trim of pink bows was worn by the latter. Both wore headresses and mitts to match their frocks and carried nosegays of pink roses.

The groom was attended by his brother, Nelson Therrien and the guests were ushered by Gail Young blood and Tony Gillespie.

Prior to the exchange of vows Miss McNeil sang "Because" and during the signing of the register sang "A Wedding Prayer". Mrs. Braithwaite presided at the organ.

A reception for 71 guests was held in the L.O.O.F. hall which was decorated with pink and white streamers and wedding bells. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and groom and flanked by bouquets of sweet peas.

The bride's mother was attired in a blue two-piece afternoon dress with accessories in pink and a corsage of pink rose buds, while the groom's mother wore a beige afternoon dress with accessories to tone and a corsage of pink roses.

Mr. Alex Nielsen proposed the bridal toast to which the groom fittingly responded. A dance followed, the reception.

For a honeymoon trip to points in the United States, the bride donned a blue suit with accessories in white and navy blue and a corsage of pink rose buds. On their return the newly weds will reside in Calgary.

Among out-of-town guests were Mrs. Marjorie Schelb, Beverly, Evelyn, Lorrie and Kenny and Mrs. Mae Anderson all of Kalamazoo, Michigan, and guests from Vulcan, Champion, Lomond, Cannore and Banff.

WHO Honors Pioneer Nurses

Simple, isn't it? Once you know how. Teaching the know-how of child care is the job of this smiling nurse from the U.N. World Health Organization, who shows a young El Salvadorian mother how to bathe her baby. In her daily visits to rural districts, Nurse Marta Marroquin also watches over the health of expectant mothers and trains local midwives in hygienic methods. She is one of a pioneer group of WHO nurses whose work in 21 countries of the world helps promote international understanding. The international agency has dedicated this year's World Health Day, April 7, to the public health nurse—counselor, guide and healer.

Application Deadline Sept. 1

Last year the first of the annual scholarship awards for nursing were won by Kathleen Halpen and Adelaide Susanne Jacques, both of Calgary. Miss Halpen is in training at the Calgary General hospital and Miss Jacques at the Holy Cross.

Each scholarship is valued at $450 and they are paid in instalments beginning at each of the three training years in the following manner: $200 at the time of enrollment; $100 at the beginning of the second year provided the student has had a satisfactory first year; and $150 at the start of the third year provided the second year has also been satisfactory.

Students attending high school in the area south of a line running from Rocky Mountain House east to Red Deer ad Coronation, are eligible to apply for the scholarships.

Those wishing to train in the Holy Cross hospital should send applications to the Holy Cross school of Nursing and those wishing to take training at the Calgary General should send applications to the School of Nursing there.

All applications must be in by September 1.

Applications should include the name, age and address of the student, as well as the name of the high school principal in the high school attended.

Applicants must have obtained senior matriculation with 100 credits. They must be accepted by one of the two Calgary schools of nursing to be eligible for the award; and they must meet the standards of scholastic attainment required by the scholarship committee.

The character and need of the applicants will also be factors taken into account in deciding the winners.

Mrs. Pete McIntyre assisted by Mrs. Agnes McKay as joint hostess, entertained the August meeting of the Reid Hill W. I. at her home Thursday, August 12, when 13 members and two visitors answered the "oll Call with 'How I Think We Could Improve Our W. I.'"

The business session was brief and dealt with routine matters. It was decided to send a Traveling Basket among the members as a means of raising funds.

Birthday remembrances were presented to the three members whose birthdays occur this month, namely Mrs. John French, Mrs. P. Bowie and Mrs. A. Sales.

The tea draw was won by Mrs. French and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed. A dainty lunch was served by the hostesses.

Duck Season In Alberta Extended Until December

The Dominion government has decided to extend the duck hunting season in most parts of central and western Canada this year to chase lingering birds out of northern areas before the winter freeze-up.

New regulations, outlining the 1954 shooting dates along with a number of other changes have been announced by the resources department. For the most part, with the exception of season dates, they follow the 1953 rules.

However, in British Columbia because of an abundance of the species, a bonus of two birds, either pintails or baldpates, will be allowed in the daily bag of ducks, increased to 10 from eight.

The maximum number of ducks a hunter can have in his possession at one time in B. C. is increased to 40 from 32, provided no more of the birds are species other than baldpates or pintails.

Power boats have been banned from Quebec for some time, but under the new regulations a hunter can use a power boat if he detaches the motor from the craft when he hits the hunting area. The ban on power boats is lifted in the Northwest Territories and the Yukon.

Lengthening of seasons will apply to Quebec, Ontario, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

Some zoning changes have been made in Nova Scotia, Quebec, Ontario, Saskatchewan and B. C. and the department suggested hunters should scrutinize the new regulations which have been shipped out to post offices, other government buildings and enforcement buildings across Canada for bulletin.

Young Couple Wed In Queenstown

A wedding of interest to several points in Alberta and Havre, Montana, was solemnized in the Christian Training Centre, Queenstown, on Saturday, August 7 at 11 a.m., when, in a quite but pretty ceremony, Elsie Opal, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Johnson of Milo, became the bride of Ralph Julian, youngest son of Mr. Andrew Christofferson of Havre, Montana, in a double ring ceremony. The marriage rites were performed by Rev. C. D. McCreary of Queenstown.

The wedding music was provided by Mrs. C. McCreary and the bride party was led by the bridesmaid, Miss Jean Hern of Empress who was attired in a blue full length frock with lace and a match length bolero and headress and wore a corsage of pink roses.

The maid of honor, sister of the bride, Miss Donna Johnson, followed in a pink dress with lace over bodice. Her headress was of pink roses and she wore white carnations tipped with blue.

Preceding the bride and strewing in the bride's path multi-colored sweet peas was the flower girl Miss Ruthie Christofferson, "small sister of the groom. She was dainty in a pale green ankle length gown with pink roses in her hair and carried a decorated basket.

The bride was radiantly lovely in a white satin wedding gown featuring a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice, lily point sleeves and a long train carried by Master Kenny Jones, the page boy. Her full-length veil was held by a white headress and she carried a small white Bible. Her bouquet was red roses and carnations and she wore a strand of rhinestones which was her only jewellery and a gift of the groom.

The groom was supported by Mr. Theodore Lougan of Havre, and Mr. Bob Page, uncle of the bride. Mr. Floyd McCreary was usher.

During the signing of the register Mrs. McCreary sang a solo and accompanied herself.

The church was made lovely by profusely blooming giant geraniums grown by Mrs. McCreary. The pulpit and pews were decorated with bows in white, pink and blue.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for approximately 60 guests. Receiving with the bride couple were the parents of each. The bride's mother chose a dress of flowered pink nylon and wore a corsage of pink roses. The groom's step-mother wore a dress of pink nylon sheer and a corsage of pink roses. Also receiving were board posting.

Here are the season dates in Alberta—The three former districts of northern, central and southern will be combined into one for ducks, geese, rails and coots, the season running from Sept. 18 to Dec. 4, longer than in all of last year's time limits. Season for Wilson's snipe, will be Sept. 15 to Oct. 16.

the maternal grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Page of High River.

After the blessing a very delicious lunch was served. A three-tiered wedding cake, beautifully decorated and topped by a miniature bride and groom centred the bride's table. From two white bells on the ceiling were white, pink and blue streamers that fell to each corner and to the sides of the bride's table.

The party was favored by a solo "I Love you for sentimental reasons" by Mr. Theodore Lougan accompanied by Mrs. McCreary on the accordion. Mr. McCreary handled the announcements. Garden flowers and bowls of violets decorated the tables.

Later a table stocked high with parcels was brought in and the wedding party opened many lovely gifts that were displayed.

The bride favored everyone with a few well chosen words thanking all for their thoughtfulness and inviting those who could ever find it possible to visit them in their new home. The groom spoke announcing his intention to go into the ministry ad thanking everyone for their help in establishing their new home.

Out-of-town guests attended from High River, Havre, Montana, and Calgary.

The day preceding the wedding the bridesmaid arrived by plane. Unable to find a suitable place to land, they circled the bride's home several times and finally landed in Mr. and Mrs. Hulbert's pasture across the road where they were met by the bride and her father.

For travelling the bride chose a red suit with white trim and white accessories and a corsage of white carnations tipped with blue.

The happy couple expect to make their home at Havre, Montana after a honeymoon spent at Waterton.

What To Do If Polio Strikes

E. M. Rowland, Medical Health Officer of the Foothills Health Unit has outlined the following precautions to be taken whenever poliomyelitis is prevalent.

1. Consult your doctor if any member of the household develops unexplained fever, influenza and like symptoms, vomiting, or diarrhoea.

2. Avoid contact with persons suffering from any of these symptoms, and with members of their family.

3. Keep away from crowded gatherings and crowded beaches.

4. Insist on adequate rest for yourself and your family, especially if there has been contact with a known or suspected case of poliomyelitis.

5. Pay special attention to hygiene, always washing your hands before meals and doing all you can to eliminate flies from your home.

6. Avoid travelling to or through areas where recent cases of poliomyelitis have been reported.

7. If you live in an area where poliomyelitis is prevalent, help prevent the spread of poliomyelitis by staying as close to your home as possible and by discouraging visitors from outside areas.

Not Earning Their Pay

A bit of by-play in the House of Commons recently tended to confirm the arguments of those who, when the increased indemnities for members were before Parliament, expressed doubts as to whether the move would prove justified. In the course of a debate on national defence in the House, opposition leader George Drew protested that, at one period during the afternoon, there were only eleven Liberal members in the chamber, and not one cabinet minister. Defence Minister Claxton retorted that a little later in the afternoon there was only one member of the official opposition in the House.

It was generally conceded by critics of the substantial boost in indemnities, that it would be fully justified granted that the membership at large did the job that it was elected to do. On the basis of experience over a long period however, there were grounds for questioning whether the increased indemnity would result in increased attendance or more careful attention to their duties on the part of a goodly proportion of the members. The by-play in the course of the debate in question would appear to provide ample justification for these doubts. —Exchange.

A Texan heard that a factory in Ohio was interested in buying bull-frog skins. He wired that he could supply any quantity up to 100,000 on demand. Needing the skins badly, the factory wired him to send the entire 100,000.

About ten days later a single dried frog skin arrived through the mail, with this notice: "Gents, I'm sorry about this, but here's all the frog skins there were. The noise sure fooled me." —The Rotarian.

Edmonton Report

By Donald F. Smith
Special Correspondent

EDMONTON: Albertans may find they have more direct interest in a meeting next month in Geneva than they have been able to stimulate in the current ill-fated conference of nations at the same site.

Next month's meeting in the Swiss city may discuss a matter which affect us every day—the calendar and the need to reform it. The organization which is convincing is the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations and calendar reform is one of the topics of the council's agenda.

There is nothing radical about wanting to change the method of reckoning time. Actually, supporters of calendar reform do not advocate changing the system of reckoning time but want it reckoned more accurately.

Our system of time measurement is based on the movements of the earth turning on its axis and rotating around the sun. The word day is used to mark the length of time it takes the earth to turn once on its axis. The word year marks the length of time it takes the earth to move once around the sun. Man has no control over either movement, so for centuries he has attempted to relate as best he can a calendar system to astronomical motions.

The calendar we use, while not completely universal since there are various religious and economic calendars in various parts of the world, is a development of more than 2,000 years and might be said to date back to the times when early man found it necessary to have some system of keeping track of the days.

The last change in our calendar took place in 1752 and since then hundreds of proposals have been advanced for further reform.

Prior to the Second World War, the League of Nations examined 152 different suggestions and finally narrowed the field of consideration to two systems proposed. One of these now is most favored by a large number of nations and is called the World Calendar.

One of its chief features is equality of the year's quarters. Each quarter would begin on a Sunday. The first month of each quarter would have 31 days and the remaining two, 30 days.

To business and government, the calendar would mean simplification of accounting and statistical procedures. They could count on having the same number of business and working days in the same month every year. Instead of having birthdays, anniversaries and holidays which wander all through the week from year to year, they would always fall on the same day each year. For instance, Christmas, which of course would remain as December 25, would always fall on Monday.

Like our present calendar and like any calendar which attempts to compile the days into a year, the World Calendar in keeping the seven-day week runs into difficulty. Fifty-two times seven is 364—but there are 365 days and a little more in a year.

The proposed calendar's solution to this is that the last day of the year would not be considered in the calendar, except as mention as "Worldsday", an international holiday.

Then, calendar makers run into the difficulty posed by the fact that the solar year is about one-quarter of a day longer than 365 days. That means that, to be accurate, every four years an extra day must be added to the calendar for the fourth year. The World Calendar's leap year would be observed by inserting a second Worldsday every fourth year between June 30 and July 1.

Simply stated, under the World Calendar every year would be the same; the four quarters, identical in form, each would have 91 days, 13 weeks or three months; each month would have 26 weekdays; the quarters would begin on a Sunday and end on a Saturday, and each year would begin on Sunday, Jan. 1.

The next time the present calendar and the World Calendar coincide is 1956 and that is the year which calendar reformists are hoping will be adopted by the world for the changeover.

Representatives of the Economic and Social Council pressed for discussion of the World Calendar at the July meeting. They had a good reason, for India residents are trying to carry on business with no less than 30 different calendars in existence.

It was India's Nehru, who perhaps answered those who are reluctant to make the change. He said: "The past brings us many gifts; indeed all that we have today of culture, civilization, science or knowledge of some aspects of truth, is a gift of the distant or recent past to us. It is right that we acknowledge our obligations to the past."

"But the past does not exhaust our duty or obligation. We owe a duty to the future also, and perhaps that obligation is even greater than the one we owe to the past. For the past is passed and done with, we cannot change it; the future is yet to come and perhaps we may be able to shape it a little."

We are stuck with the solar system as it is, but it would have been a lot simpler if the earth completed its circle of the sun in 360 days for instance. The calendar could be divided into 60 six-day weeks and 12 months of five weeks each.

Motor Accidents Decrease In July

Motor vehicle accidents in Alberta during July were less than during the comparable period a year ago, according to a summary compiled by the Alberta Safety Council. The number for the month was 1,294, a decrease of 211.

It is significant that the province-wide Courtesy Campaign, sponsored by the Alberta Safety Council, opened June 30 in more than 50 cities, towns and municipal districts. This is believed to have had a good effect in promoting safer driving. The campaign still is going on in various districts.

In line with the decrease in accidents, the number of persons injured in July dropped from 416 to 378 for the month. On the other hand, deaths in motor accidents in July numbered 21, an increase of six over the same month of last year. Of these, 17 occurred in rural points and were reported by the RCMP, while in addition there was one in Edmonton and three in Lethbridge.

For the seven-month period ended July 31, there were 96 motor traffic fatalities in Alberta, one less than at this time a year ago.

The cumulative report reveals 9,257 traffic accidents so far this year, while in the same period of 1953 the aggregate was 9,362. Total of those injured is 1,892, as against 2,100 at July 21 last year.

Edmonton led the cities with 394 motor traffic accidents in July, compared with 483 a year ago. Calgary had 224, a reduction of 24. Medicine Hat 26, an increase of five, and Lethbridge 25, a decrease of three. There were 16 in Jasper Place and nine in other towns reporting.

Accidents reported by the RCMP totalled 600 for the month, a drop of 153.

Persons injured in motor accidents in Edmonton increased from 68 to 81 in July, while Calgary had 56, a gain of seven. There were five in Medicine Hat, 10 in Lethbridge and five in Jasper Place. The RCMP reported 221, a drop of 78.

Chinese Evangelist To Speak At Ensign

Chinese evangelist Mun Hope, will speak at the Community Hall at Ensign at 7:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday, August 19 and 20 at two public meetings. Admission will be free and all are invited.

Widely travelled in Britain, France, Belgium and Holland, he spoke to 30,000 College and public school students in the Pacific Northwest; and was featured with Billy Graham at the Illinois Soldier Field Rally of 65,000 people.

"Despite her attempt to Communize the world, Russia will never succeed in gaining universal control," Mr. Hope said last Sunday evening to a big audience in Calgary. "The Gospel is still the power of God unto salvation to everyone who believes in the Lord Jesus Christ."

"The widespread unrest throughout the world, the return of Israel to the Holy Land, and the unusual publicity given to Noah's Ark and Mount Ararat expeditions, are grave reminders that God is still sovereign." After leaving Ensign, he will speak at Lethbridge on Sunday, March 22, before going to British Columbia.

OF MANY THINGS

By Ambrose Hills

Mountain Philosopher
I spent a recent weekend driving through the beautiful green mountains of Vermont. I explored several abandoned farms. I stopped at scores of little cemeteries to read the ancient tombstones. Many of them were dated back to the early 1800s.

After a full day of driving I became lonely for human company. Seeing a farmer standing alone in his isolated farm yard, I stopped to talk. After the usual preliminaries, I said, "Well, what do you think of Mr. McCarthy?"

"Not much," he said tersely. "How do you find the Eisenhower government?" I asked.

He looked at me for quite a long time before answering. Then he said, "This government's as good as any we ever had. But it's got the same faults as all the rest—it's too big, and it does a heap more to us than it does for us." He looked out across the hills. "There's too many tryin' to run things," he said. "The sun's bin risin' in back of those hills and settin' again for a long time. We bin mailing taxes in t' Washington, to our own state government, to the country, and payin' them on groceries and farm implements and doggone near everything. But mister, you just take a look and show me anything around here the government's ever done. Just that little scratch of a road through the hills—that's all."

I didn't try to argue with my farm philosopher because it would have gotten me nowhere; and I, after many hours in these hills, believed that he was at least 70 per cent right in what he said. I was reminded of what Sir James Fraser said in "The Golden Bough." He talked of men "pulling at strings to which nothing was attached." He went on to say, "The rain still fell on the thirsty ground; the sun still pursued his daily round, and the moon her nightly journey across the sky; the silent procession of the seas still moved in light and shadow, in cloud and sunshine across the earth; men were still born to labor and sorrow, and still, after a brief sojourn here, were gathered to their fathers in the long home hereafter."

All things considered, the laws of men, though infinitely costly, are pretty feeble in their results. Like the Vermont farmer, I think most of us could do with a good deal less government. It is only those of us who live in busy cities, arguing politics, listening to the radio and reading the headlines, who get fooled into thinking that ordinary human beings, once elected to parliament, become magicians and create health, wealth and prosperity by passing laws. If each of us asked himself this question, "What did I get from the government this week?" the answer would be pretty skimpy stuff for all the fuss and feathers and financing that goes on to regulate the lives of fifteen million people!

TWO BILLION BUSHELS OF GRAIN CLEANED

Over 2,000,000 bushels of grain were cleaned in 1953, reports F. F. Parkinson, Supervisor of Special Projects, Alberta Department of Agriculture. This was done by the 10 municipal seed cleaning plants in operation throughout Alberta. Now that the seed cleaning season is over these plants are being checked over and the necessary maintenance work is being done, in readiness for the 1954-55 season.

This fall 5 more seed cleaning plants should be in operation—Willingdon, Myrnam, Paradise Valley, Loughheed and Stony Plain. Several districts are planning construction in 1955.

This demand for seed cleaning plants is due directly to 3 facts:

1. Farmers, patronizing the plants are sowing cleaner grain than they have ever sown.
2. The plants clean the grain as cheaply as the farmer could put his grain through the fanning mill at home.
3. The plants are financially sound. They are all paying operating and overhead expenses and building up a reserve fund in case of a poor season. All surplus over this is returned to the shareholders as interest on shares and patronage dividends.

These are good reasons why farmers in all areas might well consider the construction of a seed cleaning plant. Clean seed is a good investment!

Mrs. Emil Reiter and Edna were visiting relatives including Mr. W. Middleton and Mrs. Roy Burns in Carmanagay last week.

An oldtimer of the district, Mervin MacGaw, bade au revoir to his friends recently when he left to make his home in The Sunset home at Gleichen. Mr. MacGaw, who is well advanced in his seventies, is a bachelor and up to last winter was active and did various small jobs for his neighbors. He suffered a slight stroke and was hospitalized for some time. His health made it unwise for him to live alone so he arranged with the Salvation Army for a home in Gleichen where we extend best wishes for a happy and contented stay. His innate friendliness and willingness to assist wherever possible will, we are sure, make him a popular member of the home.

On Friday evening a large number of interested relatives and friends attended the achievement program of the Vacation Bible School which was held in the United Church last week. An average of 31 children attended the five day session, the greater number being in the pre-school group. The program of singing, stories and action songs and the display of drawing, coloring and handicrafts, attested to the interest and capabilities of the children and to the patience and devotion of the various teachers who gave so generously of their time to make the week interesting and profitable. These included Mrs. W. Miller who organized the school, Jean Miller, pianist, Mrs. Korth, Mrs. Knight, Mrs. Neilson, Mrs. W. Gray, Mrs. Taylor and others. The ladies of the W. A. generously served cookies and lemonade every afternoon and at the Friday evening program coffee to the adults.

The East Hospital Auxiliary held their August meeting at the home of Mrs. Richard Fraser with eight members present. After routine business procedure, the monies collected to the Satin Quilt, amounting to $61.00 was turned in. This quilt was drawn for at Saturday night's show and was won by Mrs. Con Leyger of Saskatoon. Some discussion was held on the new suite of furniture which the Auxiliary had placed in the private room at the hospital. The September meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Norrie MacMillan.

Miss Audrey Burns has returned from Canyon Church Camp where she was Director for the Explorer Group.

The Social Credit W. A. held their meeting at the home of Mrs. Fay Smith on Saturday. After a short opening exercise the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Clever of Champion and the afternoon was spent in learning the making of fabric flowers and several attractive corsages and stem flowers were made. These will be sold at their annual bazaar and bake sale, which will be held in the Town Hall on Saturday, Oct. 9th, opening at 3.00 p.m. The tea prize was won by Beverley Burns.

The Ladies Altar Society held a successful lawn tea at the home of Mrs. West, on Thursday, Aug. 12. Numerous colored balloons and the abundance of beautiful lawn flowers made a most attractive setting for the tables. Each visitor received a corsage made by Mrs. West. The spot draws were won by Mrs. Ferguson of Haney, B. C. and Mrs. Loren Roemmle. Though the attendance was small, the delicious refreshments and floral surroundings made a most pleasant afternoon for everyone present.

Mrs. Ferguson of Haney, B. C. has been visiting Mrs. J. Taylor.

Freddie Blair of Calgary was the weekend guest of his sister, Mrs. Orvil Blue.

Mr. and Mrs. Patton and family of Calgary were visiting over the weekend at the home of their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Orval Blue. On Sunday they had a family picnic and fishing trip to Travers Dam.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Bond and family have returned from holidays spent at B. C. Points.

The Ladies' Soft Ball team journeyed to Claresholm on Sunday but the game was cancelled due to rain.

During 1952 a Douglas fir felled on Vancouver island was found to be 1,092 years old.

WITH the increasing hazards of highway travel, there may be a big market ahead for a new lightweight aluminum crash helmet developed in Europe. It not only takes unnecessary weight off your mind; tests proved that it also exhibits less "dent depth" when objects are dropped on it — with no one underneath, we should add.

Sounds like a sensible chap-peau for construction workers too. Certainly lots of aluminum articles developed for one use have been quickly adopted for others... a process which has helped build heavy demand for Canadian aluminum both at home and in foreign markets. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

Saving money... and writing cheques

A bank offers you two types of deposit account, Savings and Current.

If your main purpose is to save, to accumulate funds, it's good to have a Savings account.

If you write cheques frequently, you will like the many advantages of a Current account.

The money you leave in a Savings account earns interest, and your bank book gives you an up-to-date, continuing record of your financial progress. If your funds are active, with frequent deposits and withdrawals, a Current account provides a special service; a monthly statement, together with your cancelled cheques—useful as receipts and a ready reference for budgeting, bookkeeping and other purposes.

Goldthorpe - Clements

The United church in Milo was the setting for a pretty afternoon wedding on Aug. 11 which united in marriage Frances Lois Clements daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Clements of Milo and Mervin Kirk Goldthorpe, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Goldthorpe of Milo. Rev. S. J. Clarke of Vulcan performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with multi-colored flowers including sweet peas, merrigolds, gladioli, dahlias and snap dragons. Ken Braham gave the prayer.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor length dress with a bouffant skirt of white nylon net poised over white satin, and the bodice styled with a fitted lace jacket, with a Peter Pan collar and fly point sleeves. Her veil of imported silk illusion misted to three-quarter length from a beaded headress. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of red sweetheart roses and white gladioli. Miss Dorothy Clements, sister of the bride was bridesmaid, and frocked in a floor length dress of pink nylon net over taffeta. She wore a bandeau of pink flowers and carried a bouquet of blue carnations. Mrs. Betty Armstrong, an other sister of the bride, as maid of honor, chose a floor length gown of blue nylon net over taffeta, and her headress was of blue flowers and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The bride's nieces, Judy Clements and Terry Heather were the flower girls. Terry was dressed in a blue nylon dress edged with lace, a band of pink flowers in her hair and carried a miniature bouquet of pink carnations and blue forget me nots, centered with a large rose. Judy wore a pink nylon dress, a head band of blue flowers, a similar bouquet but with the carnations in blue. Wee Douglass Stumpf nephew of the groom was the charming ring bearer. H. L. Goldthorpe, brother of the groom was groomsmen and the ushers were Ronald White, the groom's nephew and Lloyd Armstrong, the bride's brother-in-law.

Miss Betty Stackton sang "Be-cause," "O Perfect Love" and "Through the Years" and Mrs. N. Budd played the wedding music. A reception for 60 guests followed in the IOOF hall with the bride table centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, decorated by Mrs. Gladys Phillips, pink and white tapers and decorated with summer flowers. Rev. Clarke proposed the toast to the bride. Mrs. Margaret Umschied was in charge of the guest book.

Mrs. Clements chose for her daughter's wedding a navy sheer dress over blue and white taffeta, complimented with white accessories and a corsage of red roses.
